Grandparents' Day walk supports seniors and school breakfast program

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Four generations of Elk Point and area residents took to the streets on Sunday afternoon for the annual walk in celebration of Grandparents' Day, returning to the Seniors' Recreation Centre to enjoy refreshments, entertainment and prizes.

The love, care and unconditional support that grandparents show for their grandchildren shone through on Sunday, when a generous $680 share of the funds raised through Elk Point's annual Grandparents' Day walk was allocated to Elk Point Elementary School's breakfast program, with equal shares of $1,370 going to support the Elk Point Seniors' Recreation Centre and the Handi Bus, which transports seniors and those with mobility problems throughout the year.

The walk involved all ages from babies to great-grandparents, who enjoyed a seven-block journey around the downtown area before returning to the Seniors' Centre for entertainment and refreshments.

Organizing committee chair Diana Anderson started off the afternoon by thanking the County of St. Paul, Town of Elk Point and FCSS for funding the event, the Elk Point Co-op and Golden Loaf Bakery for providing a pair of beautifully decorated cakes, and the Alberta Council on Aging for sponsoring the fruit trays. She introduced her fellow committee members and thanked the seniors for the use of the facility for the event.

New dormitories dedicated at Whitney Lake Camp

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The completion of two handsome new dormitories capable of accommodating a total of 80 campers that have replaced aging, timeworn cabins at Whitney Lake United Church Camp was celebrated on Saturday with a dedication ceremony attended by some of those who helped to bring about the transformation.

"This is where important business happens," Jim Belliveau told the group gathered around the facility's campfire circle, recalling "the people who lit important fires for us a long time ago" and got the project underway. While the project "has been on our minds a long time, it's been like the gentle roll of a small snowball going uphill."

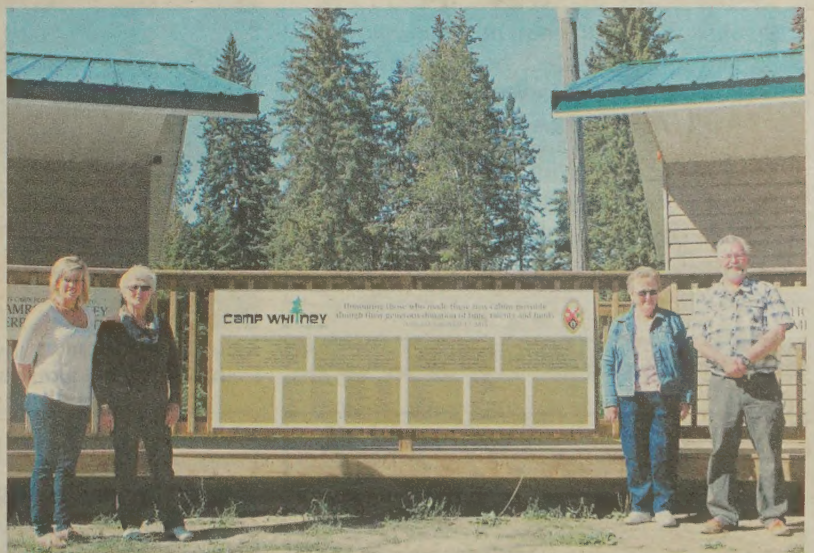

The need to rejuvenate the cabin space and increase the ability of the camp to accommodate those with increased needs has finally been accomplished, with capacity increased by 20 per cent, and the new accommodation equipped with ramps that make it accessible to those with mobility issues, Belliveau said.

The project became a reality thanks to the efforts of "a lot of people," from Alvin Green, who found architect Andy Lemieux, "who did the blueprints for free," to Donna Chamberland, who he called "a bulldozer of a person, a velvet boxing glove with indomitable spirit." He listed valued board members, general contractor Rick Warawa and others without whom the project would not have been possible.

"We are a bigger family, we are churches, the St. Paul Presbytery, the County of St. Paul, the MD of Bonnyville, the Masonic Lodge, Elk Point United Church, and all the other groups and individuals. The signs thank two significant organizations, Canadian Natural Resources Limited and Shamrock Valley Enterprises, and are indicative of what they do for the community."

CELEBRATING COMPLETION - Carrie Rawlake of Canadian Natural Resources and Camp Whitney Society directors Donna Chamberland, Beverley Green and Jim Belliveau admire the plaque listing 170 corporate, organization and individual donors who made the new dormitories possible.

Information Night 2015

There was information for all ages at Elk Point's annual Information Night on Tuesday, Sept. 8, where more than 40 groups, organizations and agencies provided facts on upcoming programs, services and activities. Over 260 people attended the event, which was organized and presented by the County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS.

Information Night was an opportunity to sign up for sports programs and dance and drama lessons, join groups ranging from Rural Crime Watch to 4-H and the Elks Lodge, catch up on immunizations, and learn about everything from the new mural project spearheaded by Early Childhood Development to the Classroom Agriculture program.

Elk Point Skating Club will be holding registrations at the arena on the following dates:

September 17th & 24th, 3-6:00 PM

We offer several different programs to meet your skater's needs:

- Pre-power • Power • Canskate
- JR Star Skate • SR Star Skate

If you have any questions, contact:

Kelly@ 780-724-3371
Melissa@ 780-205-1477

We will also have a skate swap both of these days. Anyone who would like to bring there used skates, please feel free to do so. Thanks!!

AGM - Wednesday, Oct. 7/15 - 6:00 PM @ arena

Kassandra Moores provided an update on Elk Point Municipal Library services and programs.

CAO Ken Gwozdz and Mayor Parrish Tung offered information on the Town of Elk Point's upcoming projects and progress.

Name: Julie
Age: 44

Julie is a sweet, loving, beautiful woman who works as a teacher. She has never been married and has no children, though she is open to men who do have children. Julie is a very kind, caring, generous and charitable person, she is very accepting and non-judgmental. She enjoys the outdoors, road trips, cooking, traveling, sailing, and spending time with her friends and family. Julie is looking for a man who is loving, kind, has a big heart and a great personality. Julie is a bit nervous about dating, she hasn't dated in over 2 years, her father had prostate cancer and was very sick, in between helping care for her dad, working, and helping her mother run his business, she just didn't have the time. Her father did unfortunately pass away within the past year, and her mother ended up selling the business, as she couldn't operate it on her own, she misses her father a lot, but she knows that her father wanted her to find a good man to make her happy. She has much more time now and she is ready and excited to get out there and to find someone special she can spend her life with, someone that can make her happy, and someone she can make equally happy.

Healthcare Centre staff ride the Big Bike

QUINTON AMUNDSON
Review Contributor

Twenty staff members of the Elk Point Health Care Centre enjoyed a fun joyride down the community streets last Thursday, riding the Heart and Stroke Foundation Big Bike.

The riders wore smiles on their faces as they waved to people they encountered on the 20-minute ride, and they even playfully sprayed a few folks with water guns.

"The ride was a lot of fun," said team captain Carol Lee. "We were fortunate that the weather was great today."

At the end of their ride, the team received news that they managed to raise $6,735 for the foundation.

Lee said that Linda Dorey was the staff member that earned the most money for the team. She raised over $3,000 on her own.

This was the first time in a few years the healthcare centre staff decided to participate in the Big Bike challenge. It was suggested to the healthcare centre social committee that participating in this year's ride would be a great team-building endeavor and a worthy cause to support. The idea was approved, and the rest they say is history.

The funds raised by the team will go towards funding research for life-saving treatments for heart disease or stroke patients.

For more information on the Big Bike, and the Heart and Stroke Foundation, visit support.heartandstroke.ca.

A total of 170 individual names and entities have contributed to the project, he said, and "I'm openly admitting that we are still coming into the last phase," which will see an indoor washroom added to each building as soon as more funding can be found.

Anyone wishing to contribute to that final step of the project is invited to contact Donna Chamberland at (780) 724-2422.

Big birthday, but no party

It's a little late to think about it now, but do you realize that Alberta celebrated its 110th birthday just 10 days ago? It's a milestone we could have celebrated in some way, had we just thought about it sooner.

Looking back at Alberta's Centennial in 2005, we recall the gala gathering that saw Girl Guide Leigha Bishop and Pathfinders Terri White and Nicole Labrie hoist the Centennial 2005 flag in front of a huge audience that enjoyed a program of music, dance and historical tidbits, the presentation of commemorative certificates to the 11 babies from the area born to that point in the Centennial year, and Adele Johnson singing "We've Got it All in Alberta," her entry in the province's competition for an official Alberta song. It was truly a fitting celebration for a landmark occasion.

A belated Happy 110th Birthday to our province, where Adele's song still rings true, 10 years later.

RECREATION CORNER

Join in, give back, be strong

JENA COLBOURNE
Recreation Director

Giving back is so important, it's something I believe a lot of people in Elk Point do, it's what make us such a strong community. I wanted to highlight a group of fantastic ladies that have opened their door to me recently, the Elk Point Community Lions.

Some may remember in 1998 the Leos Club was formed in Elk Point, unfortunately the club dwindled and disbanded after five or six years. However, from 1998-2000 I was a proud member of the club, which focused on youths giving back to their community. It was a great organization and the baby of the Lions and what was then the Lioness Club. I have really fond memories of organizing dances, fundraisers, and participating in the democratic process. The skills I learned from this club really shine in what I do now. Another great side effect of the club was friendship. Many of my fellow Leos and I are still friends to this day and share a special place in our hearts for the Lions. I'm sure many of you have heard Johnny Nielson say, "Once you're a Lion, you're a Lion for life- no matter where in the world you go."

So, when Crystal Boorse ask me to join the Community Lions, there was no way I'd ever say no.

At September's meeting we talked about a few members' history with the club, Susan Frisby being our longest standing member, she's been a part of Lions International since 1986. For 31 years, she's been giving back to our community. That is amazing! Elk Point Councillor, Deb McQuinn, received her 15-year benchmark pin at the meeting and President Dianne Pfiefer was celebrated for bringing in new members.

The Community Lions don't hold meetings in the summer, so there was lots to talk about last night. The group brainstormed so many fantastic fundraising and community activities; all of which I am excited to take to my council representatives in the Town's Rec Department and I look forward to sharing all of it with you in the near future.

For now, I urge you all to get involved and find a club - any club. Something that ignites a flame, inspires you, and allows you to give back to our community. It's what makes us all stronger.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Building boom, 'dog and pony show', Alberta Centennial

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF SEPT. 15 IN...

1985

Building permits for 13 residential and two industrial projects topped the $6 million mark for permits issued in 1985, with new homes mushrooming in the north subdivision and on the west side of town. The chamber of commerce reconvened after their summer break, with the Canada Day celebration and the visit by the Great Canadian Canoe Pageant both successful and the tourist information centre welcoming 1,606 visitors in July and August.

1990

The first completed project to use funding from Elk Points Community Tourism Action Plan was inspected by MLA John Robot, Mayor Bruce Klee Berger, CTAP chairman Dave Yoke, town administrator Pat Vincent and Public Works superintendent Ron Fares, with proud developer John Yakemchuk happy to show off his new RV park. Over 80 per cent of 1990 property taxes had been received by the Town of Elk Point by closing time on Aug. 31, with $256,000 of the $600,000 total coming in on the final day.

1995

Runners, walkers and cyclists raised $3,489.50 at the Terry Fox Run, with Peggy Maas the top fundraiser, bringing in $1,215 in pledges. Town councillors Mae Hendrickson, Dave Yake, Louis Verhagen, Danny Povaschuk, Ron Smith and Bill Schuhmacher were all returned acclamation on Nomination Day, but no nominations were received to take over the mayor's chair.

2000

Restoration was complete on Heinsburg's historic railway water tower, with project coordinator waving the scissors triumphantly aloft after snipping the ribbon held by MLA Paul Langevin and restoration contractor Howard Mehain. Chamber of commerce president Eugene Buck proudly displayed the blue ribbon and prize cheque the chamber's hippie-laden, peace-themed float had earned in the Canada Day parade, as the chamber got back to business after a summer that also included the chamber-sponsored Star Bros. Circus, which Buck said was basically "a dog and pony show," with no large or exotic animals.

Elk Point went all out in celebration of Alberta's Centennial, with a Town-sponsored barbecue, a stage show combining historical tidbits with music, song, dance, presentations to Centennial babies (above) and prizes, winding up with a spectacular fireworks display. Grandparents' Day celebrations were moved to the Elk Point United Church after the usual venue at the Seniors' Recreation Centre was double booked.

2010

A crowd ranging from babies in strollers, one of them pushed by Minister of Infrastructure 'Gido Ray' Danyluk, to top fundraiser Peggy Maas, surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, to 94-year-old Violet McFadyen in a wheelchair took part in the Grandparents Day Walk and the program that followed. Elk Point barrel racer Ruby Braconnier was among the Lakeland Rodeo Association's Showdown champions, the first barrel racer from this area to win the award since Wanda Austin of St. Lina won in 1985 and Anne Lawes of St. Paul in 1984, with Wendy Lorensen (now Young) winning the Junior Barrels title in both those years.

FASD Awareness Day

The Lakeland Centre for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD), a non-profit organization with offices in Cold Lake, Bonnyville, St. Paul and Lac La Biche, hosted their first-ever FASD Awareness Day event in Elk Point on Wednesday, Sept. 9, where they served up hot dogs and cold drinks, along with a wealth of information regarding the disorder and its prevention, in the Elk Point Co-op parking lot. Left to right are transition coordinator Seanna Fakeley, Donna Fries and Paula Dewan. The event also included a "Mocktail Challenge" where participants prepared tasty and festive non-alcoholic drink options from the mystery ingredients shown at right.

Welcoming a new school year

St. Paul and District Co-op helped to welcome students to a new school year at F. G. Miller High School, and helped to support local athletes' transportation at the same time, with a fundraising barbecue. Co-op petroleum manager Dwayne Odgaard supervised proceedings as general manager Graham Getz did the cooking and Elk Point food store manager Mark Gormley served up lunch to the hungry students and staff on Friday, Sept. 4.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of
LORENSON, Sheila Margaret
June 22, 1938-Sept. 15, 2008

What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be,
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In heaven, that happy life.

Always remembered and never forgotten, Ronnie and Family.

THANK YOU

Thank You

to the morning coffee gang for organizing the lovely dinner that was held for Larry & I at the Empress.

A special thanks to Gordon Fakeley for the delicious carrot cake. We enjoyed the evening visiting with all of you!

— Larry & Lil Demchuk

The family of Jay Evans would like to send a heartfelt thank you to family, friends & the community of St. Paul and area for all the love and support shown to our family in our time of need. A huge thank you to all the people who drove Jay to and from Edmonton for treatments and to Laura and Mike Connell and their family for providing a comforting home away from home in Edmonton. Thank you to everyone for all the visits and those who kept Jay company when we could not be there. To all of you who sent cards, emails, phone calls, flowers and food, we express our deep appreciation.

A special thank you to the following:

Dr. Senecal, Dr. VanRooyen and Dr. DeVilliers who provided wonderful care and compassion not only to Jay but our whole family; all emergency and Second Floor nursing staff (for their excellent care and warm shoulders to cry on); Michelle Bessalco, Leanne Poulin and Home Care Nurses; Loreta Manning, Palliative Volunteers that sat with Jay; Amy Thomson, Pharmacist and Shauna Gates, Pharmacy Technician at the St. Therese Health Centre.

A heartfelt thank you to Leanne and staff at Grace Gardens for their warmth and kindness while graciously guiding us through our final preparation and celebration of Jay's life. We thank Pastor Kelly Stokley for his loving comfort during his hospital and home visits and the beautiful service he officiated. A thank you to DAC Catering staff for the wonderful meal they prepared.

With Deepest Appreciation, the family of Jay Evans

FGM principal Colin Bjorkman, accepting a fresh-cooked smokie from Gormley, thanked the Co-op crew and said Co-op is very supportive of FGM's students and their activities, and that the barbecue will provide much needed support for FGM Athletics.

Grandparents

Shyanne and Shaylyn Klatt were first on the entertainment roster with a lively dance, their flying feet in perfect time to a favourite Ukrainian melody. Sisters Heaven and Patience Colbourne displayed their vocal talents as they sang solos and a duet.

Bernice Capjack thanked all the youngsters who took part in this year's Grandparents' Day contest at the Elementary School, and called up winners Jonathan McAleese, Tanner Dion, Halle Moroziuk, Kayla Barkhouse, Chloe Bendixen and Jessica McQuinn. Six other students were unable to attend.

Following a break for refreshments and a variety of children's games, the audience enjoyed songs by Debra McQuinn before Anderson announced that a grand total of $3,420 had been raised for the three worthy causes, with Jeannette Frisby this year's top fundraiser, bringing in $490.

Her name, along with those of eight others who brought in $100 or more in donations, went into a draw for two dinner theatre tickets, sponsored by Mooswa Holdings, with Lori Kadutski the lucky winner.

Frisby and Lois Sheplawy received gifts as the oldest walkers taking part, while the two youngest tiny tots received stuffed animals.
